Building An Unbreakable Safety Net

Ican't begin to explain what Isagenix® has done for me and my family," says Rita Johansen. The newly minted Isagenix Millionaire was able to retire last June from her job in education, but more importantly, has been able to support her family through some challenging times.

"This year we have gone through so much and I don't know how we would have done it financially without my income," shares Rita. "It will be weeks before my husband Steve recuperates from his surgery and can return to work on the family farm. Isagenix will help us through again."

This isn't the first time Rita's residual income has provided a golden safety net. When floods devastated farms along the Missouri River a couple years ago, Isagenix literally saved the Johansen family farm.

It's been six years since the start of her Isagenix journey and the soft-spoken Nebraskan still admits she is not what you call a "network marketer." What Rita has done well is support the strong business builders on her team, including the person who brought her in. Happy in her career as an elementary school principal, Rita said "yes" to the opportunity because she saw it as a way to support her daughter. Luckily for Rita, her daughter Hilari [Courtney] went on to become an Isagenix Millionaire and one of the top leaders in the company.

"I never thought this would happen to me. And it would not have if it weren't for Hilari and the wonderful hard-working people on our team. My future goal for my business is to get my two sons involved so our entire family can be financially secure." ☀

Receiving and Giving the Ultimate Gift

Itell people sometimes that what you're looking for doesn't always show up how you expect it," says Suzan Hart. "Mine showed up in a brown box with pills, shakes and supplements."

Back in 2003, Suzan had been praying for something to show up. The Toronto resident was overwhelmed with three busy boys, a crumbling marriage, a demanding career in counseling, a lien on her home and over $50,000 in credit card debt. Even though she went to bed totally worn out from stress and worry, when Isagenix® showed up, Suzan was not exactly eager to jump in.

"At first I wasn't open to Isagenix because I was a competitive bodybuilder and vowed never to have another shake," muses Suzan. "But in the back of my mind I was still looking for a business and thought: what if? After seeing the compensation plan I knew I would have success because it looked like the average person could do the business."

When she first started, Suzan's goal was to make an extra $500 a month. After she achieved that, she set her goal for $1,000. Three years later the women's crisis counselor was able to retire from her job in management. Today, Suzan is an Isagenix Millionaire and just getting started.

"It's exciting to reach millionaire status. It's about appreciating everyone at Isagenix and my team and knowing that networking truly works," says Suzan. "When you understand the power of leverage, partnership and community, what you dreamed becomes possible."

Today, Suzan is enjoying the blessing of being cash positive and driving her "IsaMercedes" and having her "IsaHome." But what she cherishes most is setting her team members up for their own retirement and the personal development she's experienced through Isagenix that has allowed her to build a second income as a speaker and trainer.

"Isagenix is committed to the growth of all their Associates," says Suzan. "The company has added so much just for personal production. Right now is the perfect time to join Isagenix." ☀

Owning Every Minute And Every Success

In 2006 Jeff Stolper decided to walk away from a busy advertising firm that he built from scratch. Most people might have thought he was crazy, but Jeff was following his heart.

"I went to Celebration and it really anchored it for me. To see the atmosphere, the caliber of people, to see that the company was real, that's when I made the decision to leave advertising," says Jeff. "I believed Isagenix could lead to an even greater lifestyle."

After a year, Jeff's income was up to $10,000 a month* and since then has gone vertical to where he is now: Isagenix Millionaire. The secret to Jeff's success in network marketing has been his zealous dedication (about 2,000 hours) to personal development—something he considers mandatory.

"Your business is never going to be larger than you believe it's going to be. It's like a thermostat: if you set it for a certain temperature, that's where it's going to stay," shares Jeff. "I have transcended so many different levels from six years ago. I'm way more capable than when I first started."

More importantly than the money, the New Jersey resident feels incredibly blessed to have owned every second of every day for the past six years. Currently, Jeff's time is spent building his business so he can reach his next million in half the time and helping others on his team hit the milestone for themselves. The groom-to-be is also looking forward to giving his fiancé April the dream wedding she deserves and retiring her from her job.

"My life is the vision I've always wanted it to be," shares Jeff. "My health is good, my income is great, and I have my fiancé and my daughter, Mika, to enjoy it with. Isagenix gives me the ability to change people's lives in so many ways." ☀

Enjoying A Decade Of Sound Sleep

In two previous businesses the veteran marketer literally had his income stripped from him by companies with a lack of integrity and poor management. But the newest Isagenix® Millionaire has been sleeping soundly since being brought into Isagenix by one of the company's top 5 income earners, Carole Taylor and Peter Oelmann.

During that first year in business, Cameron met and married Misty and the two have been working together ever since. With six kids, seven grandkids and an elderly aunt to look after, the Howards are grateful for the freedom of their Isagenix income. The testament to that came two years ago when Misty was hit with serious health issues.

"I was a full-time caregiver for almost half a year," shares Cameron. "The six weeks we were in the city for treatment, it cost us $9,000. Thankfully, I didn't have to phone a boss or borrow money. My Isagenix checks came in every week and provided us with the income. Today, Misty is a walking, talking miracle."

With 10 years and a million-dollar milestone under their belt, the Howards belief in Isagenix still burns bright.

"There's no other company out there like it. It's amazing to see how much it's grown and we're here to stay. I'm looking forward to my granddaughter leading Isagenix and she's only 3," says Misty.

Adds Cameron, "The original vision to be the biggest nutritional network marketing company in the world—I think we're well on our way. We've got so many people with no experience making six figures and I don't see that slowing down. I believe Kathy Coover's dream to have the most six-and seven-figure income earners will happen soon." ☀

From Mechanic to Millionaire

Dave Mac Arthur was doing everything he could to get through a long, grueling day that started with a paper route at 4:30 a.m. and ended with his full-time job fixing cars. The father of five was like a hamster on a wheel, fueled by energy drinks and coffee.

"I was in a catch-22 of working harder to make more money but wasn't taking care of myself. My health was going down," shares Dave. "I was just surviving; doing anything to get through the day. I was praying hard for something to come along."

When that something did come along during a trip to a women's expo, Dave threw the opportunity in the trash. "Although I was looking, I took the Isagenix® card and threw it away. But my wife, Cary, entered a drawing and we won a few products with no strings attached. My life has not been the same since day one of putting Isagenix into my body."

Releasing 53 pounds* was just the beginning of Dave's new life. The business opportunity clicked for the skeptical mechanic once he understood the compensation plan. He replaced his income in five months, quit being a mechanic and set out on a bigger personal development journey.

"I didn't have a millionaire mindset. I had to work on my belief that I could be a leader and make the kind of income I never made before. I knew if I worked on that, change would come."

The Utah father credits Isagenix with not only giving him his life back, but handing it to him on a silver platter. Ten months after joining Isagenix, Dave moved his family into their 5,000 square-foot dream home and can now indulge in fancy nights out without worry.

"Residual income is a beautiful thing," says Dave. "But my greatest joy comes from serving people; money just provides enjoyment. Isagenix aligns perfectly with my core values. When your motto is 'If it's not right for the Associates, it's not right for company', and everything they've done has proved that, then it's a safe place to be. There's no where like Isagenix." ☀

Creating A Powerful Life of Freedom

Robert and Joy Arthur were happy in their previous lives as a massage therapist and marketing executive. But, the two were unsettled by the fact that they were living someone else's dream.

"My career was fun and very satisfying but we couldn't create the time freedom we wanted," says Robert.

After a transformational experience on the Isagenix® products, the couple pursued the business with the determination of two people who wanted to build a life of freedom. After seven years of working their business with perseverance, passion and persistence, the new Isagenix Millionaires are free to do what they want, when they want.

"Before Isagenix, we just had little snapshots. But now life is in full color because we're able to be fully engaged," says Robert. Adds Joy, "I feel like I've always lived life well but what I've learned is that I can live it even fuller."

The key to the Arthur's success has been their journey of personal growth. "The biggest part of growing into a more effective leader and person is the ability to uplift those around you and open the door for them to believe in themselves and what they can do," says Robert.

The devoted grandparents have an enviable travel itinerary. The two just finished a cruise to celebrate their millionaire status and have a diving trip to Mexico, an African safari and a Disney cruise already penciled in. Their vision board keeps expanding and they're doing it all with no hiccups to their business.

"We believe in living life full out in big, bold capital letters," says Robert. "And our mission is to show others that it's possible. Adds Joy, "The future is even more solid in the fact that we're growing as fast as we're growing and we couldn't do it if Isagenix wasn't such a great company. People are coming at record speed; we are in the right place at the right time." ☀

Living Beyond Their Dreams

Back in 2004, Todd and Joni Brewer were living like most Americans. "Life was good, but hard," remembers Joni. "Todd made under $40,000 and I just worked part-time jobs. We were overextended and living beyond our means."

The life they know today almost didn't happen for the Isagenix® Millionaires. After saying no to the opportunity for 21 months, Joni gave in and tried the products. The results were transformative, not only on her body but on her mindset and belief. Joni recognized right away a winning formula for success.

"Isagenix was consumable, visual and emotional and people could share their own story from heart. I knew how big that would be."

Armed with her story and an amiable demeanor, Joni began to share the opportunity with her own brand of patience, strength and humor—and it clicked. Three years after joining Isagenix, Joni retired Todd. The high school sweethearts now work together and with two of their adult sons who have full-time Isagenix businesses.

"People ask if it's a get rich quick scheme, and part of me wants to say, 'yes,'" laughs Joni. "We have just under 20 team members making six figures and five that are making a healthy six figures*. Has it all been easy? No. But people aren't afraid of hard work, they're afraid of what they don't know and doing it alone. We educate and let them know we're with them every step of the way. I never tell people it's easy or hard, but that it's incredibly doable. Isagenix is a company that supports us in every way. Their products, business training and education are above and beyond. What I want the most is to help people feel that what happened to us with Isagenix can happen for them too!" ☀

From Darkness to Amazing Light

Lisa Vanderspek never knew what it was like to struggle. She went from a comfortable life as a pilot's daughter to making $150,000 a year out of college running a successful construction company with her husband. Then life came crashing down. The housing market tanked and in a space of three months the business went under, the house went into foreclosure and the cars were repossessed.

"I never imagined I would find myself in that state, but I had three kids and I wasn't going to let my circumstances define who I was or determine our future," says Lisa.

It's that plucky spirit that guided Lisa to Celebration eight days after being introduced to Isagenix®. It was there she had a life-changing encounter with Co-Founder and CEO Jim Coover.

"I went to shake his hand and he said, 'Lisa, we don't shake hands, we hug,'" remembers Lisa. "I knew I was home."

The newcomer to the industry started going to networking events—two a day—just to meet new people and religiously attended every Isagenix event that year to absorb everything she could about the industry.

"I got to Crystal Executive through sheer tenacity and goal setting," says Lisa. "I was not making very much, maybe $500* the first six months. It wasn't until nine months in I found my first business builder. That was the first time I started talking about the opportunity along with the products. "Within three months that business builder had 250 people on her team, which shot Lisa up the ranks.

The now single mother is basking in a new, bright place in her life where she can make anything happen if she puts her mind to it. Her financial picture is sunny with a six-figure income* that allows her to take the kids to Hawaii and pay for college without worry or fear.

"I used to be riddled with fear. Now I know that no matter what, I can handle it and take care of myself and my kids," says Lisa. "I believe that no one should have to live in fear. I believe that everyone has the power within to do something extraordinary. If they can tap into their power, they can live the life of their dreams with Isagenix." ☀

HOPE COMES IN MANY FORMS. For Elizabeth, it came in a plain brown box. Releasing 10 pounds* on the 9-Day System lit a spark in Elizabeth that hadn't burned bright since the death of her daughter from cancer. She was determined to change her health, finances and relationships and used the IsaBody Challenge as motivation. What started as a way to get back her health and maybe pay some bills, turned into a journey of real transformation. "It's not just about selling people a great product. It's about making people great and giving them hope. I am forever transformed!"

A SERIES OF PERSONAL CHALLENGES LEFT Leanne feeling tired and old at just 42. She turned to Isagenix to get her health and fitness back and released more than 30 pounds* over a period of a few months. She felt great but wanted to reach even further—especially after seeing 2011 IsaBody Finalist Lisa Wolny's amazing body transformation. "I knew the IsaBody Challenge was the vehicle I needed to inspire and help others." Today, the Consultant is fit, sculpted, rocking size-2 skinny jeans and most importantly, she's found success as a business owner. The IsaBody Challenge was just the spark she needed to ignite her dormant competitive spirit. After releasing 71 pounds and 81 inches* in six months, the clinical psychologist has regained youthful vitality and boundless energy. Her transformation has rubbed off on family, friends and patients and led to an Isagenix business that the Consultant refers to as her 'accidental earning plan.' "I went from virtual inactivity to an exciting, active life!"
